Foreign Intelligence.

BOSTON Nov. 9.

By the Falcon capt. Lewis, we have received London papers to the 1st October.

No new events of interest had occurred in Europe. Complaints of distress in England continued to abate, and the harvest promised sufficiency. A paper of the first October says "Bullion to the amount of a million a week continues to be imported into this country."

In France all continued tranquil, and the election of the new Parliament was taking place. Moderation was the precept and practice of Louis.

A pamphlet of the Ultra Royalist Chateaubriant, in which he says the king did not act himself in the dissolution of the Chamber, has been suppressed; and the Viscount's name erased from the list of the Ministers of State.

The English papers contain numerous details of the storm of Algiers.

The Dutch Admiral De Capellen's official despatch had been published. It is more minute and better written than Viscount Exmouth's. The Algerines, he says, had 50,000 men on their ramparts. "The coolness and order," he says, "with which the terrible fire of the batteries was replied to, close to the masonry walls of Algiers, will as little admit of description, as the heroism and self-devotion of each individual general, and the greatness of Lord Exmouth, in particular, in the attack of this memorable day.

The destruction of half Algiers, and the burning of the whole fleet, have been the result of it."

He mentions that when the Queen Charlotte, was in great danger from a burning wreck, Lord Exmouth refused the assistance offered him of all the boats, and replied—"I have calculated every thing. Continue your fire."

The Impregnable had 266 shot in her, 50 below her lower port deck; of which many were 68 pounders. She expended 163 tons powder, 120 tons of shot, fifty four 32 pound rockets, and thirty 8 inch shells.

The Dey's Prime Minister was beheaded after the action, because he was considered as the principal of the French party, whose influence prevailed on the Dey to refuse the overtures of the Prince Regent."

UNITED STATES AND NAPLES.

Letters have been received from Naples the 22d August. One of them says, his Neapolitan Majesty had agreed to pay the United States three hundred thousand dollars, for the spoliation made by Murat; and that in consequence the American squadron excepting the Hornet, were to sail from Sicily and Gibraltar, from whence one of them was to carry dispatches and such of the men whose time of service had expired.

Another letter says, the Neapolitan government had agreed to pay 1,500,000 ducats, in the 3 instalments.

A third letter dated at Leghorn, the 3d Sept. intimates, on the authority of letters from Naples, that nothing was likely to be effected by Mr. Pinkney. [Very little regard can be paid to the report of private letter writers. It is not probable Mr. Pinkney, or the Neapolitan Minister, entrusted with the secrets of a negotiation; and the public have learnt by experience what sort of value to attach to anonymous news thus retailed. All which can be relied on, is that Mr. Pinkney is on an important mission—the result of which may possibly be communicated to congress at its meeting on the second of the ensuing month.]

Ad. Milne, who distinguished himself at Algiers, is coming out to take the naval command at Halifax.

New-York, November 11.

LATEST.—To Capt. De Cost, the editors of the Gazette are indebted for a Liverpool paper of the 4th, and one from London on the 2d ultimo. They, however, contain but little news.

The London papers, the beginning of last month, were amusing their readers with contradictory assertions relative to a Divorce between the Prince Regent & his consort. There seems no foundation for the reports of such an event.

Lord Exmouth's squadron, on their return from Algiers, was met in the Channel on the 11th ult. by Capt. De Cost. M. M. Geyser, a Swiss, has invented a wheel which seems to turn of itself, and the most skillful artists cannot discover the moving principle. This is better than the perpetual motion.

The London paper say, that during the late attack of Lord Exmouth on Algiers, the Algerines were assisted by 40,000 Arabs, who, since the battle, abandoned their arms, and became a great annoyance to the city.

It was supposed that the French frigate found in the Bay, had landed a number of French Engineers, to manage the defence against Lord Exmouth.

The King of Portugal has sent a frigate to England with a present to the Duke of Wellington. It is of worked silver, and the first Portuguese artists have been upon it for two years, is contained in 55 cases, and is a table service of 55 persons.

The London prints still talk of our building seventeen 74's and 23 frigates, which, with the 20 steam frigates, they say, will render us formidable indeed. Good!

There was a numerous meeting at Nottingham on the 28th of Sept. of 8000 persons, for the purpose of addressing the Prince Regent, on the subject of the distressed situation of the country. The address was agreed to. It calls upon the Prince Regent to assemble Parliament forthwith, and to recommend prompt measures for the relief of the suffering People of England, by abolishing sinecures, pensions, grants, reducing the army, &c.

Similar meetings for similar purposes were held at Middlesex, Bolton &c.

The Liverpool Mercury of the 4th ult. says—The prices of corn have fallen in all the ports of the Baltic. The Harvest in Poland has been abundant.

It appears, that, by the last accounts from England, from St. Helena, Bonaparte and his household, had received letters from France, which produced an elevation of spirits in the whole corps. Bony had received a letter from his Maria Louise—and Marchand, Bony's valet, received a letter from one of young Napoleon's domestics, with a lock of the boy's hair, on which occasion, there was a gala day at Longwood.

The Lord Mayor of London was re-elected on the first of last month, which it appears, is of late years, a very uncommon occurrence.

LONDON, Sept. 30.

Reward of Valour.

Commissioners have been sent down to Portsmouth to meet Lord Exmouth's fleet to promote three Commanders to the Post Captains, 14 Lieutenants to be Commanders, and 40 Midshipmen to be Lieutenants.

Captain Brisbane, of the Queen Charlotte, was on Monday se'night presented by Lord Melville to the Prince Regent, who conferred on him the honor of Knighthood for his services at Algiers. He is now Sir James Brisbane.

London Common Council.

At a Court held on Thursday, an Address was voted to the Prince Regent on the Glorious attack on Algiers by Lord Exmouth. A Vote of Thanks to Lord Exmouth, Admirals Milne, and the Captains, Officers, and Seamen under their command, was then unanimously agreed to. The Court then voted a sword of 100 guineas value to Admiral Milne.

The Leander, with Rear Admiral Milne's flag, has arrived at Torbay, bearing Lord Exmouth's original dispatches. She returned home under jury masts, and one of her sides gives dreadful proof of her injuries in battle, being nearly stove in. The Glasgow is also said to be arrived at Torbay.

In only three days after the action, 50 men died on board the Impregnable of their wounds. The other ships had suffered proportionably in a similar way.

The British ship St. Antonio, taken by a cruiser belonging to Tripoli, on her passage from Messina to Leghorn, was given up, together with her valuable cargo. The news of the chastisement of the Algerines had reached Tripoli.

October 2.

Three per cent. Consols 61 1/2.
A law for restraining the abuses of the Press, passed the chamber of the States General at the Hague, on the 27th of September, 64 to 4. Thus the liberty of the Press there is extinct.

The Dutch Admiral Von Capellen, for the glorious battle at Algiers, has been knighted. The Dutch government has given to Lord Exmouth the Grand Cross.

Vice Admiral Prince Bouillon, aged 81, departed this life in London on the 20th of Sept. last.

Genoa, Sept. 8.

By intelligence from Algiers we learn that the Dey has, with his own hand taken off the heads of several of his subjects whom he accused of treason.

Some of the Chiefs took flight towards the sea, but not being able to get on board the English vessels, they gained the mountains. Two corps of Infidels are mentioned who did not do their duty. Although he has experienced a great check, the Dey has lost nothing of his fierceness; he manifests a most invincible hatred against the English, and is still the idol of the people.

4075 casks;
making a total this year of 18,592 casks. The foreign demand during last month has cleared off about 1000 barrels, and some few have been taken for Ireland—nor have we wanted a fair demand from the home trade, so that upon the whole holders have felt encouraged to support the market with considerable firmness. As, however, we are beginning to lose the foreign demand, and the shipments to Ireland having been discouraged by direct supplies, we shall feel the weight of imports more heavily; and it is understood that the quantity to arrive from Canada will prove fully as considerable as has at any time been anticipated. Our present stock of ashes consists chiefly of pots; notwithstanding that the demand for Irish demand has been directed to them almost exclusively. Pearls are very narrow compass, and seem likely to support their present currency.

Naval Stores.—We make no alteration in the quotation of naval stores, but it would be difficult to obtain our highest prices of tar. We sold a short time ago about 2000 barrels of Willington at 3s and a similar parcel has been since sold by another house at 12s 3d per barrel.

The London market is now also lower than ours, as we have sales from thence of a small parcel under our care at 11s per barrel. The stock of tar throughout the kingdom is large, and is probably not under 60,000 barrels in this market alone. Turpentine is in a request—the stock much reduced, and the prices likely to continue steady, with the chance rather of improvement than otherwise.

Timber.—The ruinous results of the war have attracted for a while the attention of the country dealers and the trade here; but continued anxiety and pecuniary difficulties have checked all hope of speedy improvement. No very place of import are alike inundated, cargoes are abandoned for the freight only, and in some instances a premium has been paid in addition. The prices of common pine are reduced about 1/4d per foot within a fortnight (they had previously advanced about so much) and the market is still on the decline. Oak is entirely without demand, and a cargo of very fair hardwood (in store and on duty) has been forced off at 1/6d per ft. Staves of first quality, and good redwood, are in demand, as are also pine logs.

Queer iron bark, bees wax, & flaxseed are steady, and there is a good inquiry for the latter.

Grain &c.—The crisis of our harvest is arrived, and uncertainty hangs over us—inasmuch that the Dealers are completely abroad, and elated or depressed with the alternate changes of rain and sunshine that have attended on the extraordinary season. Within a week the weather had every appearance of being settled fair, and grain declined in consequence 6s. to 8s. per quarter; again we have experienced the return of rain, and from the proportion of the harvest yet uncut or unhoosed it is impossible to offer a reasonable conclusion on the prospect before us. It is certain however, that the moderate prices of bread corn have induced almost a lavish consumption amongst all classes of people, and added to the uncommon backwardness of the season or the stock of old grain will necessarily be very much reduced in quantity—and it is generally admitted that the new crops have partially failed, though opinions differ as to the extent. On the other hand, to view the subject narrowly, and as it bears upon the prospect of foreign importation, we have to consider, putting these changes of the weather, & its consequences less prominent before us, that such as the harvest is, we are little likely to want quantity, if it is only permitted to us to gather it; and then for the quality—one effect most important to be kept in mind is that the worse the quality the lower must be the average—and unless the average price of British Wheat at or above 80s. per quarter (taking the twelve maritime districts) the foreign wheat, or wheat flour, will remain restricted either to be a cheap foreign exportation, or until the average shall reach 80s. The next quarter day for determining the average will be the 15th of November, until which time the restriction is determinate; but though we have thought proper to submit the foregoing remarks, yet the following are the prices per London Gazette of the 30th ult. viz. Wheat 13s 8d—Rye 4s 8d—Barley 3s 11d—Oats 2s 5d—prices that on the 15th August would have opened the Ports for the present quarter.

Clover Seed has advanced from the rates above noticed, viz. the wetness of the season and the uncertainty of collecting the seed—American qualities rates comparatively low with us, on account of their frequent mixture with inferior seeds and being oftentimes not so cleanly put up as it is usual with the English Farmers. We quote English red Clover 7s to 8s, and white 8s to 10s per cwt.—by which the prices of American seed would be regulated but for reason we have mentioned. It may be well to serve, that to suit this market, the seed could be new and free from dust or mixtures of any kind, the colour a strong lively purple or orange, and not brown or faded, the latter being indicative of age, and therefore not approved. Rice may be considered in connexion with the harvest, there is little export demand, and the few sales lately have been at some reduction.

Tobacco.—Stock in Liverpool, 1st September, 6008; imported in September, 106—6114 hhd; taken for home use in September, 841; exported, 687—1168, leaving in store on the 1st instant 4946.

From the above statement it will be seen that our export demand is considerable, and for the home trade moderate. Prices have for some time ruled much the same, particularly for qualities suited for this country's consumption, but we have in great demand for export, the few that remain are now held for better prices. In London the stock is about 7500 hhd of which 5500 are Virginia, 200 Kentucky, and 1800 Maryland.

Of cotton, the import was, from Aug. Sept. tot.
Brazil & Lib. 10190 7500
Dutch col'n's 1900 1150
Other parts 690 1850
20590 16200

Thus far exceeding the first import of 1815 in 45,000 bags, excess loses its importance when we consider that these 45,000 bags, chiefly of the smallest weights, and Lisbon; and secondly in the American import we find a quantity imported in Aug. and Sept. was 54,000 bags, in the same year is only 15,500—11,500 a very large falling off in the year, and our import of American again our import of American in October, November and December was 38,000 bags; in the present year we have reason to believe it will be considerable. The course of the market has also been chiefly directed to qualities, and it is calculated that the third more of Uplands and N. have been worked up this year, and hence there is some difficulty in getting good parcels of either of which as we have attempted to do, new crops comes forward. The cotton in this market, viz. 2 Uplands, about two-thirds of good fair, and one third good, 16,000 N. Orleans, in about proportion; 9000 Sea Island, half middling to fair Charles River, one third good fair, and the remainder fine do. and St. Simons. The general for Cotton is rather improved the last month about 2000 exported, and 17,000 have been the trade, but there is no advance, and the continuance of prices is all that can be usually upon whilst, as the season crops draws higher, the importers to realize may sever some reduction—however a most difficult, it is not too much to the new crops arriving in market will support profitable, particularly when the American manufactured article, which months has been a together a gain revives.

We are, respectfully,

Your humble servants

Thus far exceeding the first nine months' import of 1815 in 43,000 bags. But this excess loses its importance when we consider, first that these 43,000 bags are chiefly of the smallest weights, as Brazil and Lisbon; and secondly in looking to the American import we find that the quantity imported in Aug. and Sept. last year was 54,000 bags; in the same period this year is only 15,500—thus showing a very large falling off in the latter—and again our import of American cottons, in October, November and December 1815, was 58,000 bags; in the present year we have reason to believe it will be very inconsiderable. The course of consumption has also been chiefly directed to low qualities, and it is calculated that one third more of Uplands and N. Orleans have been worked up this year than last, and hence there is some difficulty in selecting good parcels of either description, which as we have attempted to show is not likely to be much abated before the new crops come forward. The following is the estimated stock of American Cotton in this market, viz. 25,000 bags Uplands, about two-thirds inferior to good fair, and one third good and prime; 16,000 N. Orleans, in about the same proportion; 9000 Sea Island, about one half middling to fair Charleston and Savannahs, one third good fair to good do, and the remainder fine Savannah and St. Spencers. The general demand for Cotton is rather improving, in the last month about 2000 bags were exported, and 17,000 have gone to the Trade, but there is no disposition to advance, and the continuance of steady prices is all that can be usually computed upon; whilst, as the season for the new crops draws higher, the impatience of holders to realize may serve to occasion some reduction—however as in times the most difficult, the scale of consumption is so great, it is not too much to expect that the new crops arriving in an exhausted market will support profitable prices particularly when the American demand for the manufactured article, which for some months has been altogether suspended, again revives.

ALEXANDRIA.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 15.

Ravenworth, Nov. 9th, 1816.

SIR—Circumstances having occurred to render it desirable for me to have another conference with the Centerville committee, I have taken the liberty of requesting you, as chairman of that committee, to invite them to a second meeting at such time and place as you may think proper.

I have the honor to be Yours, &c.

W. H. Fitzhugh.

In consequence of the above Letter, I request the attendance of the members of the Committees from Loudon, Fairfax and Prince William at Centerville on Saturday the 23d inst.

BURR POWELL,

Chairman of the Joint Committee

November 11, 1816

On Wednesday last in the Mayor's Court, came on the trial of the Widow of Capt. Carson and her mother, and their associates, for a conspiracy against the Governor of this State, to force him to grant a pardon to Lieut. Smith; and about six o'clock, on Saturday evening, the Jury returned a verdict of Not Guilty.

Extract of a letter from Messrs. Thuret and Co. dated Havre de Grace, 2d Oct. 1816.

Corn has very much fallen, from 15 to 16 per cent, and should the harvest prove favorable, as now generally supposed it will, may yet be lower. This article operates powerfully upon Rice, &c. its price is in some degree governable by the sale of Corn, of course it may be expected to follow its decline. Flour fetches from 50 a 55 inches per barrel.

RICHMOND, November 11.

The Legislature of Virginia.

Yesterday, we were happy to see the delegates of the people of Virginia assembled once more in the capital, in compliance with the governor's proclamation.

The members of the house of delegates began to assemble at an early hour; and as they were sworn in by the executive council above stairs, they generally retired to their own hall below. About 12, a member arose, in his place, stated the propriety of proceeding to organize themselves, and nominated Wm. Maunford, Esq. as clerk to the house. Upon his putting the question, Mr. M. was elected without opposition, and was immediately introduced by two members to his seat.

Robert Stanard, Esq. of Smyth County, was then nominated to the chair, and elected by a majority of ballots. He was conducted in by Messrs. Hodderidge and Scott to the chair, and thanked the house for the honor which they had conferred upon him—acknowledging the arduous services he had to encounter, and promising the best exercise of his judgment in discharging them.

A member expressed some solicitude to dispense with the office of sergeant at arms; and a motion was accordingly made to postpone the question till this day, which was lost. The house then proceeded to the election, when Mr. John Jordan was re-elected without opposition. Messrs. Henry Southwell, Jr. John Stanfield, John Brown, and Thomas Davis, were also re-elected door keepers.

A new writ of election was ordered for the borough of Petersburg, to supply the vacancy occasioned by the death of the returned member, Dr. Walker.

The former rules of the house were adopted. The speaker laid before the house a communication from the governor, with sundry documents referred to. The communication will be given to-morrow; but at present, we must content ourselves with the following sketch:

It states that the call of the legislature was designed to give them an opportunity, if they should deem it necessary, to suspend this law compelling the banks to pay specie after the 15th of November—that there had been a change of circumstances since the passage of this law—that it was expected the congress of the U. States would have taken every constitutional measure to co-operate in producing the same result, and that the neighboring states would have adopted the same course, so as to produce simultaneous payments of specie—but, that so far from this being the case, congress had indirectly sanctioned the withholding specie payments till the 20th of February next—the state governments had been silent on the matter, and the state banks had declared their determination to make such payments on the first of July—that the hardship upon our banks is made the greater by the establishment of a national bank, the two last payments to which will fall due at periods that will induce the subscribers to that bank to make their payments by drawing the specie from our banks. The governor states his persuasion, that if these circumstances could have been foreseen, the law would not have fixed so early a day, and that its effect will be to produce commercial embarrassment and mischief, which will ultimately fall upon the agricultural part of the community. He hopes that if congress adhere to the 20th of February, the state authorities will co-operate and enforce the payment on that day throughout America; but does not see that any purpose could be answered by Virginia preceding the general or state governments three or four months. "If you concur (says he) in these sentiments, there can be no doubt of the propriety of the legislature being convened at this time. If you do not, you can proceed in the ordinary business of the state; and I flatter myself the time of meeting will not be attended with personal inconvenience to any of the members of either house."

He repeats the idea, that our Militia system is radically defective, but that it is not in the power of the states to make the necessary changes, without interfering with the powers of the general government; that that government will not perform their duty to the nation, unless they provide a better system than we now have; but, that it from the diversity of habits, &c. in different states, congress cannot agree upon a general system, acceptable to all the states, he suggests whether the power of organizing the militia ought not to be restored to the states, reserving to the general government the necessary power to employ that species of force in the manner prescribed by the constitution.

He touches on the navigation of the Chesapeake—enclosing certain documents on that subject.

He states that as the property set apart for improving the Capitol Square could not be advantageously sold for cash it had been sold on credit—and it was owing to this, that the improvements had not progressed as rapidly as could have been wished—but that contracts had now been made, the materials preparing, and it was hoped, the whole would be finished in the course of the next year.

He next touches on the law for providing a map of the state, and a chart of each county—stating, that owing to several circumstances, no progress had been made in that part which relates to the county charts—he suggests whether it would not be best to contract with one person to make the charts of several counties—he adds that the surveys of the boundaries of the state had been contracted for, and were going on, except in the north western district.

He states the disappointment he had experienced in failing to obtain the ashes of General George Washington from Judge Washington—but hopes notwithstanding, that the Assembly will proceed to take steps for erasing the monument.

He encloses the correspondence which had passed in relation to the votes of thanks to the officers of the navy and army.

He observes, that Mr. Chew had met with every facility in settling our accounts with the United States, as to the expenses of the late war, and that a further advance of $350,000 had been obtained.

He suggests the propriety of enlarging the Penitentiary, and improving our county jails.

He speaks in admirable and most emphatic terms on the advantages of establishing a system of public Education—and of cherishing the scheme of internal improvement devised by the last legislature making such changes as may appear necessary.

The Governor announces his determination to retire from the office of chief magistracy at the expiration of the year for which he was elected. "I trust," says he, "this will not be considered a dereliction of duty, as there are many of my fellow citizens much better qualified to serve the commonwealth. This consideration, and the necessity I am under, after having devoted the greater part of the last 33 years to the public service, to employ more of my time in the care of a numerous family, than is permitted by the duties of my present office, will, I hope, be a sufficient apology for this determination."

The Governor then closes his Address by some very appropriate general remarks.

The message and documents were ordered to be printed.

The House agreed to let in Petitions till the 15th of Dec.

They then adjourned till this day, 13 o'clock.

New York, November 15.

Latest from the Mediterranean Squadron.—Capt. Allen, of the sch. Morgiana, of New Bedford, who arrived this morning in 39 days from Palermo, informs us, that the American squadron of eight sail under Commodore Chauncey, had left Naples, and gone to Messina, to join the squadron, about the middle of September.

Mr. Pinkney had closed his negotiations at Naples and proceeded on his mission to Russia. Nothing certain was known as to the result of his negotiation. It was, however, reported and believed, that he had brought the question at issue to successful and amicable adjustment. It was also reported, but not believed, that he had demanded nine million of dollars, that he had already received a part of the sum finally agreed upon, and that the residue is to be paid in instalments.

We regret to learn that by Capt. Allen, that one of our Naval Captains had died on board the squadron.—The name of the deceased officer, he does not recollect.

An Italian, Mr. Prestean, who has of ficiated as pilot on board the Java. Commodore Perry, came out a passenger in the Morgiana.

Since the last publication of the Gazette the following fact has been ascertained.

The barque, Harlequin, was chartered by Cropper, Benson, and Co. of Liverpool to bring out letters to their Correspondents in the United States. One of these letters, dated October 14 states, that it had been ascertained that the crops were short, and that there would be a scarcity in England.

It was believed that an order in council would be immediately issued, permitting the importation of grain.

Married, on Tuesday evening the 12th instant, by the Rev. John Littlejohn, the Rev. John Gill Wat. of Loudoun county, to Mrs. Devanuer Bluns, of Leesburg.

JAMES KENNEDY & SON,

BOOKSELLERS, KING STREET,

Have just received from LEE'S PA-TENT MEDICINE Store, No. 46
Maiden Lane, N. York.

A FRESH SUPPLY

Of the following genuine Medicines.

For the prevention and cure of Bilious and Malignant Fevers, is recommended

Hahn's Anti-Bilious Pills.

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings, in several parts of the West Indies, and the Southern & Middle States, particularly in N. York,
Philadelphia, Baltimore, Petersburg,
Richmond, Norfolk, Edenton, Wilmington, Charleston, and Savannah. The testimony of a number of persons at each of the above places can be adduced, who have reason to believe, that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives, when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak
more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy, founded on mere assertion.

It is not, indeed, presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience, for believing that a dose of these Pills, taken once in every two weeks, during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases, their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate, and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation, and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile & prevent its morbid secretions—to restore & amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which is so often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance—they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably effectual in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

HAMILTON'S WORM DES- TROYING LOZENGES.

Which have cured an immense number of persons of both sexes, of every age,
and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from worms,
and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles, so commonly complained of, as operating with violence; on the contrary, a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent, and is also mild in its operation,
cannot injure the most delicate pregnant
lady or the tenderest infant of a week old, should no worms exist in the body; but will, without pain or griping, cleanse the stomach and bowels, of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms, and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

DESCRIPTION OF WORMS.

And the symptoms by which they are known

Worms which infest the human body,
are chiefly of four kinds, viz.—The Terres, or large round worms; the Ascarides, or small min-worms; the Oxyurites, or short, flat, white worms; and lastly, the Tania, or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This often many years long, and is full of eggs. It is most fruitful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums;
itching in the nose, and about the seat;
convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometime privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food, and sometimes voracious; purging, with slimy & fætid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; slow fever, with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms, should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success, in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens.
It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine
with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, asthmatic gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain
in the face and neck, &c.

The Genuine Persian Lotion.

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free
from corrosive and repellent minerals, (the basis of other lotions) and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes
of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetter, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c. The Persian Lotion operates mildly, without impeding the natural insensible perspiration, which is essential to health, yet its effects are speedy and permanent, rendering the skin delicately soft and smooth and improving the complexion.

The Restorative Powder for the teeth and Gums.

This excellent preparation comforts and strengthens the gums, preserves the enamel from decay, and cleanses and whitens the teeth, by absorbing all the acrimonious slime and foulness, which suffered to accumulate, never fails to injure and finally ruin them.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative.

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of the various complaints resulting from dissipated pleasures, juvenile indiscretions, residence in climates unfavourable to the constitution, the immoderate use of tea, frequent intoxication
or any other destructive intemperance;
the unskillful or excessive use of mercury, the diseases peculiar to females, at certain period of life, bad lyings in, &c.

Coughs, Asthma, sore throats, and companied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

intermittent fevers.
